An Innovative Carbonized Wood Mosaic

Forest Elements

A specialized company that has a brand new artistic concept to manufacturing Carbonized Wood Mosaic.

Timber

Natural North American Timber. After a complex heating process, the timber is converted to high quality carbonized wood for producing intricate Mosaic in different patterns.

Carbonized Wood

All natural process and no chemicals added.

A 200° C “high temperature” treatment in the kiln is a unique process for transforming the wood to a more dense, moisture resistant, anti-corrosive, and insect repellent product.

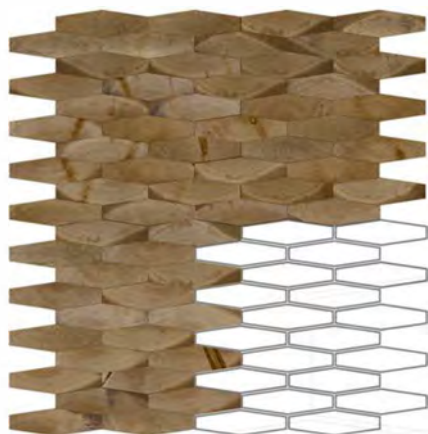

The Product

Forest Elements uses our high quality materials to develop various mosaic products with unique geometric shapes. These mosaics are innovative decorations for commercial and residential spaces. Commercially, our mosaics are inviting design elements for use in restaurants, office spaces, and retail environments. In the home, our products can be used in any room for a decorative wall, backsplash, or niche. Our mosaics are suitable for kitchens, lounge areas, and bathrooms. Our moisture resistant wood can also be used in court yards, gardens, and other outdoor living spaces.
